Welcome to Entelechy

Introduction manual for guests and work-stay residents

Introduction

The definition of 'Entelechy' means "the realization of potential". This definition, therefore, also implies that there is a unique potential inherent within each living being, and each living system.

As the Oak Tree is the Entelechy of the Aecorn, or the Butterfly is the Entelechy of a Caterpillar, this community exists due to the belief that human society is also capable of realizing its Entelechy. To us this looks like human society reaching a stage of maturity by living in balance and symbiosis with all other forms of life, while being conscientious and loving stewards of this planet Earth and its various ecosystems in their whole.

This community was named as such to help us each ask the question: How do we realize our individual, and collective Entelechy?

The Land

Entelechy is situated on 13.5 acres of land, with a dynamic topography that overlooks the ocean and some other island groups, with a dynamic ecology of Fir, Arbutus, Cedar, Hemlock, Big Leaf Maple, and many other trees, foliage and brush.

Infrastructure

- A main house with 4 bedrooms, 3 bathrooms and 2 laundry areas is usually reserved for the residents living in this domain, but common areas are shared for events, potlucks and movie nights. Common areas are also available if others on the land need a warm and dry place to rest, and the bathroom facilities on the main floor are accessible by individuals living outside of this residence, but quite hours of before 8am and after 9pm should always be respected.

- 5 trailer sites that are all serviced with electricity and water, and of which are occupied by longer term residents of Entelechy.

- An outdoor kitchen, outdoor bath/shower, and outdoor toilet that services the two wall tents, any campers, and any work-away guests. These facilities are usually just active from May to the end of October.

Respect for the land is essential. This means being responsible with waste, putting away tools and items after use each day, being mindful of the other residents, and remaining respectful for the natural ecology in the way we live and interact with the land.

Vision

To achieve a living balance between human settlement and the natural world - including a synergy between all human and non-human beings that inhabit it.

Values

Three fundamentals that represent the values of Entelechy, without going into too much detail, can be summarized as Earth Care, People Care, and Fair Share.

 Earth Care ***
Ecological Sustainability

Acting with respect, love and reverence for the Earth, and its many Earth related systems, such as; clean air, clean water, healthy soil, ecology and biodiversity.

 People Care ***
Village Sanctuary

Fostering safety, compassion and respect for one another by remaining considerate to their needs, and to uplift others so everyone is empowered to be their best.

 Fair Share ***
Social Reciprocity

Balancing the individual's needs with the needs of the community. Providing equal opportunity. Honoring the investment of time, energy and love contributed by everyone.

Principals

Principals are values-in-action, and below are some of the most important. More examples of both Values and Principals are described within the long-term resident documentation package.

Resourcefulness

Caring for the Earth by caring for Earth resources. Minimal waste lifestyle, upcycling, proper recycling. Being resourceful with energy consumption, water and materials.

Accountability & Integrity

Building and maintaining trust with others by being considerate of their needs, honest with our self and own motivations, and accountable for the effects of our behaviors.

Kindness, Fun & Safety

Gatherings, safe spaces, authentic relating, non-violent communication and fostering healthy relating through clear & respectful communication.

Entelechy Community Members

1. Brandon Strickland - Director, Treasurer, Accountant, Land Admin
2. Ross Leech - Council Member, Work-Stay Guest Lead
3. Deiter (Raven) - Council Member, Maintenance Lead
4. Fox Froebe - Council Member, Community Chef
5. Iain McIntosh - Council Member, Work-Stay Guest Lead
6. Chris Taylor (CT) - Council Member, Digital Lead

There are usually anywhere from 18 to 28 people living or visiting Entelechy at any given time. The aforementioned named are those who have invested themselves into the greater development of this community. Guests will become familiar with many residents and other guests during their stay.

Schedule and activities

Community Land Meetings

Community Land meetings are held once a month, based on a lunar cycle that corresponds with half-moon phases. Residents will be notified of specific times and dates through the community chats on telegram.

Movie Nights

Moving nights happen spontaneously, but take place in the main house.

Community events

Community events may include birthday parties, dances, workshops and other forms of celebration. These events often require the informed consent of everyone on the land. Individuals can suggest an event to any of the Council Members.

Work-trade and Community Participation

Work-trade

Work-trade consists of growing, weeding, watering, harvesting, preparing, cleaning, building, repairing, creating, solving, painting, recycling, cooking, cleaning... ANYTHING that needs to be done on the property!

Work-trade Accommodation

Tents
Residents are encouraged to bring their own tent and to camp on the land in zones suggested by the Work-Away Lead. In some cases, tents may be lent to work-trade guests.

Bedding
Work-trade guests are asked to bring their own sleeping bag and pillow.

Off-Seasons Guests
In off seasons, provided specific projects are being focused on, heated living spaces may be provided to work-trade guests under a unique set of agreements.

Time-Trade Expectations

Work-stay residents are asked to contribute 3 days of work per week, which includes food for those three days.

Land work-days are Tuesday, Wednesdays, and Thursdays from 9am to 4pm, with lunch from 12 to 1pm, and dinners at 5pm.

Camping is also optional, and is $30 per night with no time contribution. If a resident stays for a month or longer, then a rental rate is $600 per month and includes access to outdoor amenities.

Additional Costs:

- Laundry - One free use per week. ($5 per additional load requiring both washer & dryer)
- Community food is $10 per meal, or $15 per day (lunch and dinner) for:
    - Community members not engaging in work, and guests to the land.
    - Guests or campers not work-trading not receiving a meal plan

Entele-Kitchen

The Entele-Kitchen is the outdoor kitchen that serves the work-stay guests and people living outside of the main residence who have no other personal kitchen. It is EVERYONE'S responsibility to maintain the kitchen spaces being used. Rules include:

- Closing down the kitchen by 9pm every night. This requires a complete clean of all surfaces, putting away any dry dishes, washing any wet dishes, putting away any food items, emptying the compost, sweeping the floor, and tidying the space.
- Personal food items must be kept tidy, and any shelves or fridge space used should be cleaned regularly and emptied upon departure from the land.
- Personal items are not to be left in the common areas, including the Entele-kitchen.
- Respect for the personal food items of others using the space.

Shared Meals

When providing shared meals, a kitchen manager position will be assigned. That person will be responsible for preparing lunch and dinner, and to clean up the pots, pans and other mess made from the preparation of the meal. They will also be responsible for noting food items needed for following meals that must be purchased, or prepared for such as soaking beans.

Each person eating their own meal is responsible for cleaning their individual dish, and it is encouraged that they help the kitchen managers clean up as much as possible.

Shared Spaces

Entelechy is a community run by participation and self-reliance. It is everyone's responsibility to not just clean up after themself, but also to leave community spaces cleaner than they found them. This includes collaborating on improving shared and personal spaces as an act of service and love for what the land and community provides.

Quiet(ish) hours

Quiet hours are between 9:30 pm and 8:00 am. If you want to watch a movie or listen to music in shared spaces, please ask consent from others who will be affected.

Main House

The Entelechy house is reserved for renters and long term guests, please be conscious of your presence in another's home and request consent especially if making noise or using the facilities.

House Bathrooms

Keep excess products and towels in your personal space. Ensure you are not using abrasive cleaners or scrubbing pads to clean sinks or bathtubs as this will erode the coating on the enamel. Tiles are porous and easily stained. Be sure to wipe up any messes immediately.

Outdoor Bathing Area

There is an outdoor shower and bathtub that is operated by an on-demand hot water heater. How to use this will be shown during the orientation. As pursuant with the Values and Principles of Entelechy, please be mindful of how much energy is used when having frequent or prolonged showers and baths.

Composting toilets

Composting toilets are situated nearby the Entelekichen, and are designed to capture humanuer for future use in building soil. These areas must be kept clean. If a mess is made, please do not leave it for another community member, and also remember to empty full containers into designated compost locations to ensure proper decomposition of humanure and to prevent it from mixing with other organic matter compost which can be used in the gardens.

Water & Soaps

We are conscious of our water use and attempt to not use it superfluously. Please use biodegradable soaps and body products as our showers and sinks use greywater systems that directly discharge onto the land.

Laundry

The washing machine is located in the main house basement. Drying clothes on clotheslines gets you brownie points. Each person on the land receives one free wash/dry per week, which includes eco-friendly biodegradable detergent. Additional loads are $5 each.

Recycling

Our goal is to create as little waste as possible. Please recycle all materials possible and be conscious of packaging when purchasing and consuming.

All recycling items must be washed well as dirty items can't be recycled and end up as trash. If our kitchen recycling bins are full, please empty them into our sorting bins. Be attentive to our recycling sorting bins and ensure to put your recyclables in the right box.

Compost

We compost all organics and food waste. There are compost bins in the house kitchen freezer, and in the Entelekitchen. Ensure you know the correct location to dump full compost bins, and remember to put other carbon organic matter, such as wood chips or straw, on top of the piles once a few loads of compost have begun to accrue. This will minimize smell, flies, and other issues. A note to also please remove stickers, twist ties, and other garbage from fruit and vegi's prior to composting.

Garbage

Keep it minimal; compost, reuse, recycle where possible. Items that must be disposed of must also be cleaned as much as possible if they contain food waste, so that it does not attract rodents or emit unpleasant odors.

Smoking

We prefer to keep Entelechy tobacco smoke free (packaged cigarettes). If you are smoking cannabis, please be conscious of others in your space or ask for consent to smoke. Ensure your garbage is disposed of appropriately, and be aware of prolonged dry seasons whenever using fire.

Other Logistics

Wifi

There is access to the Entelechy wifi networks. The password is Entelechy for all networks.

Printing

If you need to use a printer, Ask Raven, otherwise there is Apple Photo in Ganges.

Fire Caution

On the West Coast, we sometimes do not get rain for days. During these times, please be extra cautious using anything flammable. This includes candles, incense, and any smokable substances. If you want to have a fire, for whatever purpose, please consult a long term resident. A runaway fire can do a great deal of harm to infrastructure, ecology and human life, so please be careful

Mailing Address

Our address is 231 Armand Way, Salt Spring Island. V8K 2B6.

If you have a piece of mail that needs to be sent here, just let your work-away manager know. Just please no ongoing address registrations.

Community Communications

In the community, we all utilize Telegram as a common messaging app for general and specific group conversations.

Internal Communications

To help coordinate communications and logistics on the land, several Telegram threads are active. You are welcome to be included in those that apply to your level of involvement. Most guests will be included in 6 group chats.

1. Entelechy Community Chat
   general land thread for reminders, requests, announcements, events, etc.

2. Entel 1 - Important updates

3. Entel 2 - Forest Home Residents (only for long term residents living in the house)

4. Entel 3 - Entele-Kitchen (outdoor kitchen zone)

5. Entel 4 - Land Work Crew (Whole work crew)

6. Entel 5 - Rideshare

7. Entel 6 - Project Leads (only for those coordinating work-flows)

8. Entel 7 - Garden Guild

9. Entel 8 - Stewardship Council (for highly committed long term community members)

10. Entelechy Photos - A collection of photos people share while living here and visiting.

Upon arrival at Entelechy, please ensure you are added to the relevant telegram threads to stay connected on the essential communications.

Enjoy Your Stay !

We are grateful to have you join us on this journey!
